The Alistair Fielder Prize in Ophthalmology

Since last year we have introduced a prize to the best presentation given by a medical student or junior trainee during the rapid fire presentation session.

For the junior doctors, early exposure to such events and the opportunity to participate and stand up to scrutiny is invigorating and inspiring, whether they win or lose.

As this prize is to be a form of inspiration, it is named after someone who throughout his career has been a source of inspiration for so many, Professor Alistair Fielder. All junior doctors are welcome to participate. There will be two prizes, one for the medical students and one for the trainees in ophthalmology. Places are limited, so please apply by 25 March 2018 at conference@pantheo.com
